

HERALD CAMERA-MEN TELL THEIR STORY

Kills to Escape Gland Operation

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Louisville, Ky., police seized this paraphernalia in room of horror, where Richard Heaton was killed by William Gates to escape mutilation, Gates says.

It's Off Again

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Because the family of Baron de Wartberg, German artist, threatened to disinherit him, engagement to Mrs. Jean Nash was broken. Photo shows baron painting hosiery of Dina Gralla, actress.

Tuning In On World's Costliest Radio Set

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Behold, radio fans and fanettes, what is said to be the most precious radio set in the world. It is an eight-tube affair with gold plated wires and parts, and was shown in a radio show in New York.

Wait

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
A sealed verdict which will be opened was returned by the jury in the Supreme court. White Plains, N. Y., in $50,000 heart balm suit of Marie D. Cromer (above), against C. J. Boyle, who she says thrice proposed, then wed another.

Be Careful!

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
If your lips, young lady, are chapped or sore, don't use lipstick as this girl is doing. It may prove fatal. Second girl in a week died of blood poisoning believed to be contracted through the use of lipstick.

Far From Films, Rex Ingram Will Return to Africa

Rex Ingram, movie director, is through with the films, he said on his arrival aboard the Aquitania in New York. His wife, Alice Terry, film star, and their Arab ward, Kadda-Abdel-Kabir (both above), will return with him to Africa for simple life.

The Rooseveltian Punch

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Like father and grandfather before him, Teddy Roosevelt Jr. aims high and carries a punch. He trains daily in the Racquet club, Washington, D. C.—whether for politics or prize ring we do not know, as both professions are highly profitable. Will this youngster's punch some day carry a national kick? We wouldn't be surprised.

No Dinner Bell Needed for These Sea Lions

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Eagerly uncouth sea lions in New York Zoological park nuzzled up to keeper James McArdle at mealtime. They didn't mind wet.

Thrilling

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Faced with starvation, James Mariam, aged hermit, marooned on island in Piscataquis river, N. H., crossed turbulent waters in this barrel (above) to shore.

Impersonator

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Stephen Weinberg (above) in only one of many names he travels under, is again under arrest, charged with altering U. S. army papers.

Preparing for International Tourney

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Edward Lasker (left), Chicago, and Dr. Emanuel Lasker, Germany, fights of chessdom, studied moves in preparation for international tourney to be held in New York.

Resigns

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
Senator Irving J. Lenoir (above), Republican, resigned as chairman of Committee on Public Lands, which has been conducting the investigation of oil scandal. Ill health is reason assigned for the action.

To Try Teapot Suit

(By Pacific & Atlantic)
T. Blake Kennedy (above), Judge of U. S. Court for District of Wyoming, before whom government's suit for cancellation of the Mammoth Oil Company (Sinclair) lease on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve will be tried at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Snowed In? Not Here

What matter if Clyde Pendexter lives away out in country, what matter if the snows make roads impassable? With this his "Snowmobile" he daily comes into the village of Kezar Falls, Me. Double wheels in back and runners in front do trick.

Denby Rewards Hero as One of Last Acts

Just before former Secretary of Navy Denby stepped out of office he pinned medal on Chief Photographer Bender, who while cruising in Samoa Islands saw plane fall into sea with pilot helplessly strapped in cockpit. Bender dived into water and rescued pilot. The above photo shows Secretary Denby pinning medal on Harry Bender.
(Copyright: 1924: Pacific & Atlantic Photos, Inc.)